

Michael Barber has been with the Virginia Department of Conservation and Recreation as a Floodplain Program Planner since December 2020. His background includes grant administration and environmental compliance work with FEMA, as well as sustainability programming and advocacy with Virginia Commonwealth University.

